ABOUT

I am a Senior Product Designer with 15+ years of experience building and scaling consumer products across B2C SaaS, E-Commerce, and Global Platforms.

Throughout my career, I've driven growth, revenue, and conversion for industry-leading global platforms serving millions of users, including Farfetch (49M+ monthly consumers) and Springer Nature (20M+ monthly users).

I thrive where design operates as a strategic business lever. My end-to-end expertise bridges product strategy, pragmatic UX research, and data-driven execution to build scalable, AI-powered products.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Senior Product Designer at Springer Nature

Lisbon - Portugal / January 2021 - Current

Springer Nature is the world's largest scientific publisher (20M+ monthly users). I lead the end-to-end design strategy for core discovery and acquisition platforms, turning complex legacy ecosystems into scalable user experiences.

- Achieved an 8.6% conversion rate: Led the design strategy for a unified platform consolidating 3,000+ legacy journals into a single discovery experience, reducing turnaround times and churn.
- Drove 250k+ new monthly sessions: Partnered with Product, SEO, marketing and editorial to design a dynamic, scalable architecture for 3,000+ subject-specific landing pages, capturing long-tail organic search traffic.

Senior Product Designer at Farfetch

Lisbon - Portugal / July 2019 - December 2020

Farfetch is the leading global e-commerce platform for luxury fashion (49M+ monthly consumers). I led strategic product design and optimization, partnering directly with the world's most prestigious fashion brands to drive sales and conversion rates.

- Increased conversion rates by up to 87%: Optimized end-to-end e-commerce journeys — from product discovery to checkout funnels — for flagship luxury brands.
- Drove up to 9% YoY revenue growth: Optimized core client key performance indicators, successfully increasing overall revenue in under six months of work.

Design Lead at eSapiens Ventures

Brazil / November 2014 – January 2019

eSapiens operates one of the largest consumer social networks in Latin America (15M+ users). I led the end-to-end product design strategy and team execution, partnering with Product, Analytics, and Engineering leadership to turn user engagement into consistent revenue growth.

- Drove 20% YoY revenue growth: Partnered with product and commercial leaders to optimize subscription models, premium features, and core checkout conversion funnels.
- Scaled a high-volume platform: Led the end-to-end design strategy for a fast-paced B2C ecosystem serving 15M+ users across web and mobile touchpoints.
- Led and elevated the design practice: Mentored designers, established scalable design standards, and removed cross-functional friction to help the team move with speed and rigor.

UX Designer at Triata Media & Business

Brazil / August 2013 – November 2014

Led the end-to-end design and execution of client web and e-commerce initiatives, bridging strategic design with project delivery. Partnered directly with clients on discovery, scoping, and UX strategy, while managing the development team to ensure seamless end-to-end execution.
